Renewed Grounds For Suspicion of the Ameer.

AFGHANISTAN.
THE AMER. Calcutta, Sept. 22.—The government is not satisfied regarding the ameer's conduct. The ameer has caused the execution of the commander of the mutineers. Public opinion among all classes is strong against the ameer for not protecting the lives of members of the British embassy. He has forfeited forever the respect of his subjects.

A dispatch from Rangoon says it is generally believed that orders have been sent to the acting resident of Mandalay, Burma, to leave with his party as soon as he can without betraying undignified haste or the appearance of fear. This measure will give general satisfaction as no intercourse now exists between the residency and the Burmese court.

AFRICA.
THE ZULUS. London, Sept. 22.—Advices from Cape Town to the 2nd inst., report that King Cetshwayo was to embark at Port Durford for Cape Town. Sir Garnet Wolseley was expected at Utrecht on the 6th inst.

GREAT BRITAIN.
LABOR. London, Sept. 22.—Men of the north of England in the iron trade have protested against Dale's award, and demand his reasons therefor.

FINANCIAL.
Bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day £140,000.

The Cabinet Makers' Strike.
Louisville, Sept. 22.—The controversy which has been going on for the last two weeks between the cabinet manufacturers and their workmen regarding an advance of wages to the amount of 15 percent culminated at noon to-day by a general strike of all the men, over 800 in number.

The Great Walk.
New York, Sept. 22.—At 3 o'clock the score in the pedestrian match for the Astley beltstoad: Weston 66 miles, Rowell 53, Hazard 69, Guion 78, Flann 77, Punched 68, Merritt 67, Hart 74, Krohn 69, Taylor 64, Jackson 63, Federmeyer 53.

Wirelings.
The receipts of gold at New York from Europe since August 1st, were $27,000,000; since January 1st, $310,152,860.

CRIME AND CASUALTY.
Four Men Killed and One Injured by a Boiler Explosion at Chicago.

BOILER EXPLOSION.
Chicago, Sept. 22.—The tug C. W. Parker, while towing the schooner S. A. Wood to Evanston, burst her boiler at 9 o'clock this morning off Lincoln Park. Robert Leaker, captain; John Gallagher, engineer; Peter Rogers, fireman; and Wm. Burton, cook, were killed. The only man on the tug who survived was Wm. McGuire, a deck hand, and he was badly injured. The value of the tug was about $7,500. It is believed the engineer allowed the water to get out of the boiler. The tug went by the bottom of the lake.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.
New Orleans, Sept. 22.—At Bayou Chico, during an election Saturday, in a shooting affray between Foot and Nassman, neither of the principals were hurt, but two bystanders were shot. Edward W. Grimm being instantly killed and Richard Nash dangerously wounded.

SUICIDE.
Rockland, Sept. 22.—Edward Hart, station agent here, committed suicide this morning by throwing himself in front of the express train. Excessive drink was the cause.

FIRE.
Nashua, N. H., Sept. 22.—Berry & Parker's blocks burned last night. Loss, about $30,000; partially insured.

YELLOW FEVER.
Two Deaths but No New Cases Reported at Memphis To-day.

NO NEW CASES.
Memphis, Sept. 22.—No new cases have been reported.

TWO DEATHS.
Two deaths have occurred since last evening—W. G. White, an operator in the Western Union Telegraph Company's office, and Peter H. Donnelly, a grocery merchant doing business at 307 Poplar street. Mr. White is the third to die out of the office here this season of fever.

LATER—FOUR CASES.
Four cases have been reported to the board of health—Mrs. W. L. Bradford, Miss J. S. Prestige, Joseph Serams and Louis Jones, the last named colored.

ONE DEATH.
One additional death has occurred, Wm. J. Ryan.

AN OUTRAGE.
The hanging of Dr. Phinkett in effigy last night is generally condemned. The police promptly cut down the figure and are searching for the perpetrators of the act.

THE SICK.
Schaelman, residing five miles out on Poplar street boulevard is down with the fever.

THE NATCHEZ.
The steamer Natchez passed south this morning at 11 a. m., and drew fully 1,000 people to the bluffs by repeated screams of her whistle, which was responded to by tags at the wharf.

Grant's Return Home.
The City of Tokio, having Gen. Grant on board, arrived at San Francisco Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock. Its arrival was the signal for the ringing of bells, firing of cannon and a general pandemonium. The city was elaborately decorated with flags and mottoes, and the streets were thronged with people. Grant was received by a committee headed by Gov. Irwin and Mayor Bryant, and Gen. McDowell and staff. The mayor made an address of welcome to which Grant responded briefly. The procession was a grand affair and as it passed through the principal streets was greeted with cheers and huzzas. Grant was taken to the Palace Hotel; where quarters were specially provided for him. His arrival was the occasion of demonstrations all over California, Oregon and Nevada. Grant will remain a week at Frisco, and a grand programme has been arranged for him, including balls, banquets, visits to points of public interest, etc. The demonstrations in Grant's honor in Japan were unexampled. The citizens of Tokio, the capital, expended $50,000 in feasting Grant.

Hicksville Items.
Over two thousand bushels of wheat were sold on the streets at Hicksville on Saturday.

Father Hallinan.
The following appeared in the Lafayette Courier of last Saturday, referring to the removal of Father Hallinan by Bishop Dwenger as reported in the SENTINEL last week: We are glad to be able to state that the probabilities now are that Father Hallinan will remain in this city. A petition asking that the order of removal be rescinded was circulated and signed by over 2,000 members of the church. This paper was presented to Bishop Dwenger last evening by M. H. Gallagher, in whose charge it was entrusted. The bishop expressed himself surprised that Father H. had preached his farewell sermon, and gave Mr. Gallagher to understand that he would not be removed, but retained in this city.

Township Trustees.
The SENTINEL of Saturday briefly announced the result of the balloting for township trustee. (On the first ballot Turner voted for J. O. Bowser, George for A. H. Corrier and Gladie for Jos. Langard. The second ballot was the same and on the third ballot Messrs. George and Gladie voted for Langard, electing him. The Gazette of this morning says that the "Noble Dutch" will stand by Langard, probably being unaware that Mr. Langard is a Frenchman and not a "Dutchman."

OUR BIG SHOW.

First Day of the Annual Northern Indiana Fair.
A Successful Exhibition Already Assured.
This is nominally the first day of the fair, but in reality there is as yet no exhibition at the grounds. All is life and bustle, however. The displays in the different departments are being placed in position. The owners of privileges are putting in stocks and other ways getting ready to accommodate the visitors with lemonade, peanuts, popcorn, gingerbread and other luxuries dear to the rural heart.
A great many strangers are already coming in and tomorrow promises to be the big day of the fair. The balloon ascensions to-morrow will be a grand feature. The races will consist of a trotting match, purse $100, for horses owned in Allen and adjoining counties which never won a premium. There will be sport in this race: The following are the entries: "Frank," H. G. Parker; "Belle," G. W. Long; "Barney O," B. O'Connor; "Maud M.," Geo. Medsker; "Isadora Pummundo," W. H. Coney.
There will also be a running race for horses owned and raised in Allen and adjoining counties that never won a premium. Entries will close to-night.
FAIR NOTES.
The Home of the Friendless have a lunch stand on the grounds.
A branch of the Olympic is represented by a large pavilion.
The inevitable shooting gallery is one of the attractions.
A mechanical show will make it pleasant for everybody.
The flower tent is being rapidly filled.
The fine arts will be well represented, judging from the space taken in the art hall.
Wiggins's Museum will hold forth during the fair.
A large number of farming implements are on the grounds.
Quite a number of steppers were exercising on the track this morning.
The general opinion is that the Northern Indiana Fair will be moistened.
There are about twenty tapers at the fair grounds.
The fair grounds present a scene of activity.
Mr. Chas. Fredericksen, will run a daily hack between Maysville and Fort Wayne during the fair.
Joseph Amstutz, a practical farmer of Springfield township, the inventor of the automatic rake reel, will place the same an exhibition during the fair.
F. Fliegner has concluded not to make any exhibit at the fair this year, as he could not get the space which he needed. Mr. Fliegner's corner will be missed, as he always made a good exhibit.
The mayor this morning swore in twenty-two special policemen for the fair.
THE STINK HOLE.
A "Sentinel" Reporter Takes a Good Square Sniff at It.
A SENTINEL reporter this morning had the unexpected pleasure of stepping into the calaboose, where eight unfortunate wretches were confined, and if he will ever receive forgiveness for that one mistake and recover from the effects of that single sniff, any future pleasure of that stamp will be religiously foregone.
The stench that emanated there was simply horrible, it was brutal, and it is manifestly unjust that any person who was confined in that hell-hole should receive any further punishment at the hands of the mayor for any ordinary misdemeanor. It is time that this delectable resort should again receive the attention of the council and be ordered to be whitewashed.
Tell a councilman a tale of the dangers of the Spanish Inquisition and he would condemn the inhuman brutality of those ages with unqualified vehemence, but tell him of a dungeon where, aside from cramped quarters, disease lurks in every cubic inch of atmosphere, and that same councilman will tell you that the city is not fixed to build a city prison now, but that with a coat of whitewash the old one could be made comfortable. No man could wish to be his worst enemy a greater evil than a few hours incarceration in the Fort Wayne calaboose.
SUNDAY SINNERS.
An Imposing Array of Them Appeared Before His Honor This Morning.
At police court this morning a number of sinners paid the penalty of their deviations to Bacchus and Gambrinus.
John Hartman got a little off and was hauled in. He paid $3 and costs and agreed to call it even.
Louis Howard and Mike Costello are both foreigners—the former from Antwerp, and the latter from Columbia City. Mike strenuously denied the charge of having been drunk, and tried to hide it under the charitable cloak of age. The Mayor shook all the age out of him by sweetly remarking, $1.00 and costs. Louis shared the same fate.
Wm. Falkner went down to Mrs. Aufrecht's saloon last night and got a little off. He wanted to whip somebody, but was nipped off short by Officer Myers. Wm. had a black jack in his pocket, which is against the law and so his honor told him while he added $3 and costs.
Five boys were up for breaking windows in the English Lutheran Church. Their case was continued until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

SHOT HIS SISTER.

Bill Dunlap Tries to Murder His Sister Ida.
The Wound Trifling—Dunlap Lodged in Jail.
Last night Bill Dunlap got on a little jumble and went over to the house, a little beyond the St. Joe toll gate, where his sister Ida lives, who has figured conspicuously in the city for some time past. Ida, however, did not want to see Bill, and refused to let him in, whereupon, with a zeal worthy of a revivalist, Bill lifted his No. 12 patent lencer and kicked in the door and to relieve the monotony, drew a pistol and fired at his dearest relative. Ida didn't want to get shot in the head. She wasn't used to it. So she threw up her hand and received the ball, a small 22, in the fleshy part of her hand. Bill at once skipped out and Ida skipped for the police station where she reported the assault. Capt. Smith at once repaired to the maison de joie above mentioned, where he found the powder stained William, and gently took him in.
This morning Bill was taken before Justice Pratt, where he, in default of $500 bail, was sent to jail to await an examination to-morrow at 2 o'clock. He has retained J. Q. Stratton as counsel.
NO PIZEN.
The Eel River Sensation Proves to Be Without Reasonable Foundation.
The coroner, on Saturday, held an inquest on the body of Charlotte Reed, of Eel River township, who was reported to have died under mysterious circumstances, supposed to have been the result of poisoning. The evidence, however, did not support a shadow of the charge, and the coroner rendered a verdict of death, from natural causes. He further stated that he supposed that the only animus for the charge was a prospect of fees by Dr. Campbell.
Nathan Reed, the husband of the deceased, swore that his wife had been ailing for the past thirteen or fourteen years, and that the supposition was that she had an ulcerated stomach. He said they never had any trouble, and that he had always done all he could for his wife. He further said that Dr. Campbell was drunk when he was at his house, and he had no faith in him.
A. T. Estabrook also swore that he had known the family for the past thirteen or fourteen years during which time Mrs. Reed had been sick almost all the time.
Several other witnesses were examined, who corroborated previous testimony.
Dr. Campbell said he did not expect to make any fee from cutting up Mrs. R., and that he did not say she died from poison. He merely said her death was unaccountable.
Chas. Young Speaks Again.
To the Editor of the SENTINEL:
I have noticed several articles in the SENTINEL for my special benefit, and want Mr. D. Kerns to distinctly understand that if he wants to be the champion of the gang he must wait until I get well from my injuries and I will give him all the "satisfaction" he wants and in any manner he desires. I cannot see the object of his attack upon me while I am lying sick and not able to defend myself. I say that the man who does such a trick is an infernal coward. This man D. Kerns admits that he is one of the "gang" who tried to take my life, and yet he is not satisfied. He claims that they (meaning seven or eight rascals) were defending themselves and their mothers.
I thought by the display of knives that night that a medical college had sent the "gang" to procure it a sample. I do not know what he means by the word war. It is impossible for me to war with this man, for I am continually having hemorrhages of the arteries, and am not able to partake of food, and am in a generally dispirited condition. The best time for our war will be after I get well, and then we can have war if he wants it—even to the knife.
Now, in conclusion, I wish to tell this man that I believe he is using an alias, for I have made many inquiries about him, and no such man is known.
If you are a respectable man, let me know where you live, and as to comparing characters, I would inform Mr. Kerns that there are some of the most notorious criminals of this country, who never had their names on a police docket.
Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES YOUNG.
The Auburn Reunion.
The Fort Wayne delegation to the Auburn reunion have returned home, and report that the reunion was a grand success. Over 1,000 old soldiers participated. The chief officers of the day were General M. S. Haswell, commander-in-chief; Col. J. B. McDonald, president; Capt. E. D. Hartman, vice-president; Col. C. A. Zollinger, marshal.
The procession on Saturday, was led by Col. Zollinger, of this city, supported by Col. Bryant, of Huntington, Col. Whitaker, of New Haven, and Maj. Schwartz, of Auburn. At the grounds Col. R. S. Robertson delivered an eloquent address. Toasts were responded to by Robt. Stratton, Gen. L. J. Blair, S. B. Sweet, Robt. Henderson (the drummer boy of the Rappahannock) Col. I. B. McDonald and others.
The 44th Indiana Infantry organized with Maj. J. H. Berick, of Lagrange, as president, and Maj. S. B. Sweet, Fort Wayne, as secretary. They will hold a reunion at Kendallville, April 6th and 7th, 1880, the anniversary of the battle of Shiloh.
Mrs. A. Haines, of Plymouth, is in the city, having been summoned here on account of the death of Miss Susan DeGratery.

LATE CITY NEWS.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

Sickening Accident at Ronne-oke This Morning.
Martin Schaiok Butchered by a Freight Train.
Particulars have just been received of a sad accident at Ronneoke this morning, whereby Martin Schaiok, a son-in-law of Gen. Forebaugh, of this city, was instantly killed.
Mr. Schaiok had just received a dispatch that his brother at Logansport was dying, and if he wanted to see him alive he should come out at once. He at once made preparations to go and had barely time to catch the first line, which leaves here at about 6 o'clock in the morning. The train was just coming to a stop when he, while going across the side track, was struck by a freight train which was backing up and not perceived by any one in time to prevent the catastrophe. He was thrown down and run over and instantly killed, as both legs and one arm were cut off and his side crushed so that his entrails protruded.

THE CITY.

The fair begins to-day. Beer will flow this week. Mace Long is in Illinois. The geese are yet untanned. R. C. Bell is at Indianapolis. W. H. Coombs is on the sick list. The council meets to-morrow night. The Troubadours will take in the fair.

There is not a great deal of sickness now.

The hotels anticipate a rush this week.

Mrs. Cal. Cogwill, of Warsaw, is in town.

The real estate business is very lively.

The civil courts are doing a big business.

Mrs. R. C. Bell is visiting friends at Richmond.

The county commissioners have adjourned.

C. W. Edsall will be deputy township trustee.

Miss Clara Goodwin has returned from the east.

A good many weddings will take place this fall.

Miss Alice Lowrie is teaching school at Leavenworth.

John D. Olds and family are back from Potomac.

The Belle of Fairfield won a race at Dunkirk on Friday.

Willis Maier was married fourteen years ago yesterday.

The Tennesseans perform at the Academy to-morrow night.

Jim Wilkinson has purchased a property on East Wayne street.

The sensational balloon ascension to-morrow will draw a big crowd.

Mrs. Harriet Chittenden arrived in New York on Saturday from Europe.

Ida Woodward, who was so badly bitten by Lebr's dog, is convalescing.

The usual concert at the Pleasure Park was given yesterday afternoon.

Miss Susan B. Fowler has returned from Europe and resumed her duties in the public schools.

Eddie Coombs has returned to his school at Orchard Lake. Mr. C. accompanied him, and arrived home Saturday night.

It is supposed that the agricultural board will sprinkle the streets leading to the fair grounds this week, otherwise the dust will be suffocating.

Hartford City Telegram: George Ervin, of Fort Wayne, a used-to-be effing composer, was in this city last week, attending the bedside of his father.

Simon Edsall and Capt. Glynn and wife, of Abbot township, have returned from Kansas. Mr. Edsall bought a farm while there containing 160 acres, situated in Pottawatomie county.

Amusements will be plenty this week. The Tennesseans perform to-morrow night; Salsbury's Troubadours Wednesday and Thursday nights, and Phillips' "Under the Gaslight" Company, Saturday night.

Rev. Father von Schwedler, of the diocese of Peoria, is in the city, the guest of J. C. Fiedlerman. He leaves next week for Europe, in search of health, to be absent about a year. After visiting his home in Germany, he will go to Rome, Florence, Lour and the Holy Land.

Religions.

The churches were well attended yesterday.

Rev. A. Marine preached at Ossian yesterday.

Rev. W. H. McFarland will return home this week, and will resume his ministerial duties next Sunday.

The Fort Wayne district Lutheran conference meets at Logansport this week.

Sunday evening services have been resumed at the English Lutheran Church.

Prof. Miller preached last night at the Third street M. E. Church.

Rev. Father Schwedler, formerly of this city, but now of the diocese of Peoria, preached at St. Mary's Church yesterday. The reverend gentleman possesses a powerful and pleasing oratory, and his sermon abounded in hints and suggestions which, if heeded, must be productive of much good.

Rev. A. E. Berry, of Toledo, preached yesterday morning at Berry street M. E. church, and in the evening at the Wayne street church. The Rev. L. A. Bell was at the Wayne street church in the morning, and at the Berry street church in the evening. Both gentlemen preached ably, and produced a most favorable impression.

The annual meeting of the several Christian congregations of the city, held at Little River yesterday, was largely attended, and the exercises were highly interesting. No services were held at the Christian church in this city.

The Young Ladies Sodality, of the Cathedral, held their regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at Hibernia Hall, and, after transacting the usual business, elected the following officers:

Prefect, Miss Mary Kane. Secretary, Miss Anna Arpentz. Treasurer, Miss Lizzie Graff. Collector, Miss May Graff.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—John Hurling, a young blacksmith of Warren, Mo., got into a dispute with George Lee, last night, about a bill due the former by the latter, which resulted in Lee killing Hurling.

Akron, O., Sept. 21.—Edward Boliver, to-day was struck by a fast freight train on the Atlantic & Great Western railroad, knocking him nearly ten feet high. He was conveyed to his home and died in a few hours. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Ed. Meredith, a young lawyer, and a son of Judge Meredith, of Richmond, Va., suicided at Kansas City yesterday, by shooting himself. Depression growing out of financial troubles and sickness resulting from surgery, is said to be the cause of the deed.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 21.—In answer to a telegram, the coroner received a dispatch to-day from P. B. Fairchild, New York, asking that the body of the person known as Wynant, found floating in the lake near here yesterday, be held till further orders. Wynant, who came here from Buffalo last Wednesday, appeared to be in a despondent mood and had been drinking freely since his arrival. On Tuesday (he made inquiries as to a quiet place where a man could drown himself. It is undoubtedly a case of suicide.

Owen Sound, Sept. 21.—The steamer Northern Queen, from Sault Ste. Marie, reports Geo. W. Chisholm and son, of the Bruce mines, Lake Superior, and Mr. Cowper, of Toronto, left Bruce mines for Thessalon River in a small boat. Several days elapsed and no tidings were heard of them. A party sent in search found the oars and rudder of the boat and Chisholm's trunk on the beach midway between the two places. It is feared that all have been drowned.

Omaha, Sept. 21.—James Daily, a laborer, twenty-three years of age, was murdered Saturday afternoon, nine miles south of Omaha. He was in company with two men named John Ward and James Winters. They had stopped in a dense woods from the main road for rest and to water their horses. After hooking up ready to resume their journey, Ward seated himself on the box by Daily's side, and without warning, shot him in the back, the ball penetrating his lung and causing death.

Yellow Fever Notes.

Twelve new cases, eight white and four colored, were reported at Memphis Saturday and Sunday. The deaths were Archie P. Kahoe and Miss Louise Bradford. Fifteen nurses were assigned to duty Saturday.

Dr. J. D. Plunkett, president of the board of health, was hung in effigy Saturday night at Memphis. Attached to the cartoon was a card which read, "Up with Plunkett; down with order No. 6."

It can be obtained at the post-office news stand.

The Grubbs Law.

(Warsaw National Union.)

The Fort Wayne SENTINEL seems to think that a rigid enforcement of the Grubbs libel law would prohibit the printing of the Bible in the state, and clergymen and other people from reading it. Its conclusions are based upon the grounds that the publishing and reading of it is calculated to bring Herod, Judas Iscariot, Ananias and a host of other bad characters mentioned in the Bible into ridicule.

Those Sidewalks.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

I was much pleased with your item about the sidewalks crossing the railroad on Lafayette street. These walks are in a terrible condition and should be looked to before the city has to pay damages. Between every track there is from one to three boards gone. Is the street committee afraid the railroad companies will move their shops if they compel them to repair these sidewalks? A SUFFERER.

Fires.

The First Baptist Church at Canton, O., was damaged $2,000 by fire Sunday afternoon.

F. Miller & Co.'s Vinegar Works, Cincinnati, burned. Loss $12,000; insured for about $10,000.

The pistol shops of Savage & Smith, Middlefield, Ct., burned Sunday. Loss $40,000; insurance $27,000.

The Late Warren Colburn.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

With no purpose of writing an eulogy upon the late Warren Colburn, the writer yet wishes to bear this slight testimony to his worth and abilities. It was not my fortune to be among his intimate personal friends, or to be in any way closely connected with any of them; but I feel it to be due to his memory to state the convictions with which he impressed me when he first came to Fort Wayne as the chief engineer of the Wabash road. He was at that time (1853) apparently about twenty-five years of age, and, as I thought then and think now, the best-looking man, and of the noblest bearing and presence anywhere to be seen. His physique was formed on the perfect model, and body and soul seemed blended in perfect harmony. Not boasting himself, when he went abroad in the street, more certainly drew after him the eyes of bystanders than did Warren Colburn. But after all it was the strength and vigor of his intellect rather than the charming grace of his manner, strong as this was, that most impressed those who had anything to do with him. He seemed always equal to an emergency. He could do more useful things, and do them all well, with less apparent effort than any man I ever knew. Standing among the foremost of his own profession, if not the very foremost in it, he seemed at the same time to be the peer of the ablest in most of the others also. Talk with him of any construction and before you knew of it he would, without other implements than his pocket pencil and a slip of paper, give you a fair working sketch of it. Associate him with what men you would his was the mind that guided or led them all—the power behind the throne, greater than the throne itself. He seemed never to forget anything. Even the minutest details of a business transaction (and the writer had many with him during the construction and first equipment of the Wabash road), could

The Late Warren Colburn.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

With no purpose of writing an eulogy upon the late Warren Colburn, the writer yet wishes to bear this slight testimony to his worth and abilities. It was not my fortune to be among his intimate personal friends, or to be in any way closely connected with any of them; but I feel it to be due to his memory to state the convictions with which he impressed me when he first came to Fort Wayne as the chief engineer of the Wabash road. He was at that time (1853) apparently about twenty-five years of age, and, as I thought then and think now, the best-looking man, and of the noblest bearing and presence anywhere to be seen. His physique was formed on the perfect model, and body and soul seemed blended in perfect harmony. Not boasting himself, when he went abroad in the street, more certainly drew after him the eyes of bystanders than did Warren Colburn. But after all it was the strength and vigor of his intellect rather than the charming grace of his manner, strong as this was, that most impressed those who had anything to do with him. He seemed always equal to an emergency. He could do more useful things, and do them all well, with less apparent effort than any man I ever knew. Standing among the foremost of his own profession, if not the very foremost in it, he seemed at the same time to be the peer of the ablest in most of the others also. Talk with him of any construction and before you knew of it he would, without other implements than his pocket pencil and a slip of paper, give you a fair working sketch of it. Associate him with what men you would his was the mind that guided or led them all—the power behind the throne, greater than the throne itself. He seemed never to forget anything. Even the minutest details of a business transaction (and the writer had many with him during the construction and first equipment of the Wabash road), could be recalled at will with exactness and precision years afterwards without the aid of written memorandums.

While there was an absence of anything light or trifling in anything that he said or did, there was at the same time the like absence of anything that chilled or repelled by its severity.

The oil in a gasoline stove at Chas. Huestis's residence exploded Saturday evening, causing a fire alarm to be turned in. Damage nil.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Beam took place yesterday morning from the Third Street M. E. Church and was very largely attended.
A large force of women have been employed for several days at the Academy in preparing Madame Thiers' balloon for the ascension to-morrow.
The SENTINEL's exhaustive review of our manufacturing interests, printed Saturday night, attracted much favorable comment. The demand for extra copies was larger than could be supplied.
Salsbury's Troubadours, the most charming and successful musical combination traveling, will present their delightful entertainments at the Academy next Wednesday and Thursday nights.
Lieut. Gov. Brockmeyer, of Missouri, who has relatives in Fort Wayne and is well-known here, was severely injured by an accident the other day, and his condition is reported to be quite critical.
Garret Herald: The corner stone of the Masonic Temple, at Fort Wayne, was laid with appropriate ceremonies Tuesday last. Everything that could be thought of was deposited in the stone but a bottle of perfumery.
Don't fail to advertise in the SENTINEL this week. Our daily edition during the fair will average over 4,000, being twice as large as any other city paper, and very much larger than all the other city papers combined.
Johnny Schroeder went to market again yesterday morning. He was very much surprised to learn that there was no market on Sunday. He had a hand cart with him and said he wanted to buy a couple of coal stoves.
If you have found or lost anything, want to buy or sell anything, want a situation or want to employ help, want to rent a house or have a house to rent, advertise in the half cent column of the SENTINEL and reach 15,000 readers every day.

Fair week.
Whitewash the calaboose.
Wheat continues to go up.
The horses are coming in.
The Elmore is at Indianapolis.
Capt. Smith is back from Warsaw.
The lion basso of the world is with the Tennesseans.
Michael Nolan is lying very ill at his residence on Buchanan street.
Gwynn Anderson has returned from Potoskey. He left his hay fever behind.
The Tennesseans will undoubtedly draw an immense audience to-morrow night.
The repairs on the Evangelical Church on Clinton street have metamorphosed it.
J. B. Marsh, of Creighton avenue—a boy. Weight six and one-half pounds. No chromos.
The "Pinafore" company has broken up, and T. C. Mays has again entered into private life at Auburn.
A row took place Saturday night at a ball four miles east of the city, which resulted in several broken heads.
Wm. Rowe, who has been suffering with inflammatory rheumatism for the past week or more, is again on the streets.
Mrs. Jacob Hiser and Mrs. Argo, of Monroeville, left for Sullivan on Friday to visit the bed side of a dying brother.

Joseph Langard has filed his bond as trustee in the sum of $40,000, with Chas. McCulloch, Fred. Eckert, C. L. Contlivre and Peter Cortia as sureties.
It has not yet been decided whether or not the schools will have any vacation this week. It will be settled when Mr. Edgerton returns which will probably be this evening.
On Saturday night, in returning to New Haven from the city, Dr. William's buggy containing his two daughters and Miss Powers, was overturned. The ladies were slightly injured, and the buggy badly damaged.
Information is sought by some parties in Michigan, respecting Blakely, ex-Wabash detective, who flourished at this place some months ago. Blakely is operating up there and folks want to know something about his record.
Geo. Ostleib and Henry Weiman are said to have drawn $13,000 in the Braunschweig Lottery, (Germany). The lottery was drawn on the 17th inst. This is the 22nd, only four days, and full particulars already seems rather quick time. It is probably the effect of a huge dream.
Saturday afternoon a farmer attempted to drive across the railroad track on Calhoun street ahead of a passenger train. The watchman seized the horses and forced them back. They turned suddenly and threw the old lady to the ground. Happily she escaped with slight injuries.
Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock Mayor Zollinger was awakened by a sense of suffocation, and found that the house was filled with smoke. He at once sprang up and discovered that the chimney was burning out and that the heat from the chimney had set fire to the washboard, which had burned for a space of about four feet, and also burned the carpet. A little diligent exertion, and a plentiful supply of water soon quenched the fire with but a nominal damage.
THE RAILROADS.
Four tracks have already been laid in the new Pittsburgh yards.
For the first week of September the Wabash earnings show an increase of $5,000.
The Grand Rapids and Indiana is laying new switching tracks at Grand Rapids.
Engine 157, the big 'un, sprung a pin on Saturday and has gone into the shop for repairs.
A great many peaches are being brought from Michigan over the Grand Rapids road.
The Wabash carried 18,612 cars through this point during the first twenty days of this month.
J. J. Deen, train dispatcher of the northern division of the Grand Rapids, is in the city visiting friends.
The Toledo Commercial does not believe that the Wabash headquarters will be removed from that city to St. Louis.
O. A. Whitmore has resigned his route agency on the Grand Rapids and Indiana and has succeeded by Mr. Munchen, of Reed City.
The Wabash Company has made its parlor cars popular by reducing the cost of traveling in them to 25 cents per 200 miles and 50 cents from Toledo to St. Louis.
Yesterday afternoon Mase Long, conductor the Pittsburgh, ran off the connection switch at Warsaw and was injured by an accident the other day, and his condition is reported to be quite critical.
Friday morning early, during a fog, a passenger train south on the G. I. & L. R. R. ran into the rear of a freight train, between Tustin and Le Roy, demolishing the calaboose and slightly damaging a lumber car or two. The engine on the passenger train was damaged.
Death of Miss DeGratery.
Miss Susan, daughter of J. W. DeGratery, of Morgan & Beach's store, died of consumption this morning at half-past 8 o'clock at her residence, No. 90 East Lewis street, after an illness of several months. Miss DeGratery was nineteen years of age and was a most worthy and highly respected young lady. She was always a shining star in the family and was deservedly a great favorite with all who knew her. Her death makes a vacancy that can never be filled. Her parents are greatly prostrated by their terrible affliction. The funeral will take place Wednesday morning.

OUR BIG SHOW.

First Day of the Annual Northern Indiana Fair.
A Successful Exhibition Already Assured.
This is nominally the first day of the fair, but in reality there is as yet no exhibition at the grounds. All is life and bustle, however. The displays in the different departments are being placed in position. The owners of privileges are putting in stocks and other ways getting ready to accommodate the visitors with lemonade, peanuts, popcorn, gingerbread and other luxuries dear to the rural heart.
A great many strangers are already coming in and tomorrow promises to be the big day of the fair. The balloon ascensions to-morrow will be a grand feature. The races will consist of a trotting match, purse $100, for horses owned in Allen and adjoining counties which never won a premium. There will be sport in this race: "Frank," "H. C. Parker," "Belle," "G. W. Loag," "Barney O.," "B. O'Connor," "Maud M.," "Geo. Medsker," "Isadora Pummundo," "W. H. Coney."
There will also be a running race for horses owned and raised in Allen and adjoining counties that never won a premium. Entries will close to-night.
FAIR NOTES.
The Home of the Friendless have a lunch stand on the grounds.
A branch of the Olympic is represented by a large pavilion.
The inevitable shooting gallery is one of the attractions.
A mechanical show will make it pleasant for everybody.
The flower tent is being rapidly filled.
The fine arts will be well represented, judging from the space taken in the art hall.
Wiggins's Museum will hold forth during the fair.
A large number of farming implements are on the grounds.
Quite a number of steppers were exercising on the track this morning.
The general opinion is that the Northern Indiana Fair will be moistened.
There are about twenty taters at the fair grounds.
The fair grounds present a scene of activity.
Mr. Chis. Frederickson, will run a daily hack between Maysville and Fort Wayne during the fair.
Joseph Amstut, a practical farmer of Springfield township, the inventor of the automatic rake reel, will place the same an exhibition during the fair.
F. Eliegar has concluded not to make any exhibit at the fair this year, as he could not get the space which he needed. Mr. Eliegar's corner will be missed, as he always made a good exhibit.
The mayor this morning swore in twenty-two special policemen for the fair.
THE STINK HOLE.
A "Sentinel" Reporter Takes a Good Square Sniff at It.
A SENTINEL reporter this morning had the unexpected pleasure of stepping into the calaboose, where eight unfortunate wretches were confined, and if he will ever receive forgiveness for the effects of that one single sniff, any future pleasure of that stamp will be religiously foregone.
The stench that emanated there was simply horrible, it was brutal, and it is manifestly unjust that any person who was confined in that hell-hole should receive any further punishment at the hands of the mayor for any ordinary misdemeanor. It is time that this delectable resort should again receive the attention of the council and be ordered to be whitewashed.
Tell a councilman a tale of the dungeons of the Spanish Inquisition and he would condemn the inhuman brutality of those ages with unqualified vehemence, but tell him of a dungeon where, aside from cramped quarters, disease lurks in every cubic inch of atmosphere, and that same councilman will tell you that the city is not fixed to build a city prison now, but that with a coat of whitewash the old one could be made comfortable. No man could wish to his worst enemy a greater evil than a few hours incarceration in the Fort Wayne calaboose.
SUNDAY SINNERS.
An Imposing Array of Them Appeared Before His Honor This Morning.
At police court this morning a number of sinners paid the penalty of their devotions to Bacchus and Gambrinus.
John Hartman got a little off and was hauled in. He paid $3 and costs and agreed to call it even.
Louis Howard and Mike Costello are both foreigners—the former from Antwerp, and the latter from Columbia City. Mikekentrally denied the charge of having been drunk, and tried to hide it under the charitable cloak of ague. The Mayor shook all the ague out of him by sweetly remarking, $1.00 and costs. Wm. Falkner went down to Mrs. Aufrecht's saloon last night and got a little off. He wanted to whip somebody, but was nipped off short by Officer Myers. Wm. had a black jack in his pocket, which is against the law and so his honor told him while he added $3 and costs.
Five boys were up for breaking windows in the English Lutheran Church. Their case was continued until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

SHOT HIS SISTER.

Bill Dunlap Tries to Murder His Sister Ida.
The Wound Trifling—Dunlap Lodged in Jail.
Last night Bill Dunlap got on a little jamboree and went over to the house, a little beyond the St. Joe toll gate, where his sister Ida lives, who has figured conspicuously in the city for some time past. Ida, however, did not want to see Bill, and refused to let him in, whereupon, with a zeal worthy of a revivalist, Bill lifted his No. 12 patent bouncer and kicked in the door and to relieve the monotony, drew a pistol and fired at his dearest relative. Ida didn't want to get shot in the head. She wasn't used to it. So she threw up her hand and received the ball, a small 22, in the fleshy part of her hand. Bill at once skipped out and Ida skipped for the police station where she reported the assault. Capt. Smith at once repaired to the maison de joie above mentioned, where he found the powder stained William, and gently took him in.
This morning Bill was taken before Justice Pratt, where he, in default of $500 bail, was sent to jail to await an examination to-morrow at 2 o'clock. He has retained J. Q. Stratton as counsel.
NO PIZEN.
The Eel River Sensation Proves to Be Without Reasonable Foundation.
The coroner, on Saturday, held an inquest on the body of Charlotte Reed, of Eel River township, who was reported to have died under mysterious circumstances, supposed to have been the result of poisoning. The evidence, however, did not support a shadow of the charge, and the coroner rendered a verdict of death from natural causes. He further stated that he supposed that the only animus for the charge was a prospect of fees by Dr. Campbell.
Nathan Reed, the husband of the deceased, swore that his wife had been ailing for the past thirteen or fourteen years, and that the supposition was that she had an ulcerated stomach. He said they never had any trouble, and that he had always done all he could for his wife. He further said that Dr. Campbell was drunk when he was at his house, and he had no faith in him.
A. T. Estabrook also swore that he had known the family for the past thirteen or fourteen years during which time Mrs. Reed had been sick almost all the time.
Several other witnesses were examined, who corroborated previous testimony.
Dr. Campbell said he did not expect to make any fee from cutting up Mrs. R., and that he did not say she died from poison. He merely said her death was unaccountable.
Chas. Young Speaks Again.
To the Editor of the SENTINEL:
I have noticed several articles in the SENTINEL for my special benefit, and want Mr. D. Kerns to distinctly understand that if he wants to be the champion of the gang he must wait until I get well from my injuries and I will give him all the "satisfaction" he wants and in any manner he desires. I cannot see the object of his attack upon me while I am lying sick and not able to defend myself. I say that the man who does such a trick is an infernal coward. This man D. Kerns admits that he is one of the "gang" who tried to take my life, and yet he is not satisfied. He claims that they (meaning seven or eight roughs) were defending themselves and their mothers.
I thought by the display of knives that night that a medical college had sent the "gang" to procure it a sample.
I do not know what he means by the word war. It is impossible for me to war with this man, for I am continually having hemorrhages of the arteries, and am not able to partake of food, and am in a generally dilapidated condition. The best time for our war will be after I get well, and then we can have war if he wants it—even to the knife.
Now, in conclusion, I wish to tell this man that I believe he is using an alias, for I have made many inquiries about him, and no such man is known.
If you are a respectable man, let me know where you live, and as to comparing characters, I would inform Mr. Kerns that there are some of the most notorious criminals of this country, who never had their names on a police docket.
Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES YOUNG.
The Auburn Reunion.
The Fort Wayne delegation to the Auburn reunion have returned home, and report that the reunion was a grand success. Over 1,000 old soldiers participated. The chief officers of the day were General M. S. Hascall, commander-in-chief; Col. I. B. McDonald, president; Capt. E. D. Hartman, vice-president; Col. C. A. Zollinger, marshal.
The procession on Saturday, was led by Col. Zollinger, of this city, supported by Col. Bryant, of Huntington, Col. Whitaker, of New Haven, and Maj. Sel. wartz, of Auburn. At the grounds Col. R. S. Robertson delivered an eloquent address. Toasts were responded to by Robt. Stratton, Gen. L. J. Blair, S. B. Sweet, Robt. Henderson (the drummer boy of the Rappahannock) Col. I. B. McDonald and others.
The 44th Indiana Infantry organized with Maj. J. H. Rerick, of Lagrange, as president, and Maj. S. B. Sweet, Fort Wayne, as secretary. They will hold a reunion at Kendallville, April 6th and 7th, 1880, the anniversary of the battle of Shiloh.
Mrs. A. Haines, of Plymouth, is in the city, having been summoned here on account of the death of Miss Susan DeGratery.

LATE CITY NEWS.

INSTANTLY KILLED.
Sickening Accident at Roanoke This Morning.
Martin Schaick Butchered by a Freight Train.
Particulars have just been received of a sad accident at Roanoke this morning, whereby Martin Schaick, a son-in-law of Geo. Forebaugh, of this city, was instantly killed.
Mr. Schaick had just received a dispatch that his brother at Logansport was dying, and if he wanted to see him alive he should come out at once. He at once made preparations to go and had barely time to catch the fast line, which leaves here at about 6 o'clock in the morning. The train was just coming to a stop when he, while going across the side track, was struck by a freight train which was backing up and not perceived by any one in time to prevent the catastrophe. He was thrown down and run over and instantly killed, as both legs and one arm were cut off and his side crushed so that his entrails protruded.
